

KITCHEN ROOM

Name: _____ Date: ____/____/____ Score _____

Kitchen:

It is part of a house where meals are cooked or prepared.

Gas stove / Looking Range:

1. It is a kitchen appliance used for cooking food.
2. It is a kitchen range in which the heat for cooking is provided by electric power
3. It is a range with gas rings and an oven for cooking with gas.

Burner:

It is the part of a gas stove that produces flame.

Stove top:

It is the top part of a stove where food is cooked in pans.

Gas ring:

1. It is a round piece of metal with holes in it.
2. It is on the top of a gas stove.
3. Here the gas is lit to produce the flame for cooking.

Lighter:

It is a hand-held device for creating a flame.

Sandwich maker:

It is an electric equipment used for making sandwiches.

Food processor:

It is an electrical appliance that is used to mix, blend, chop or cut food items.

Oven glove:

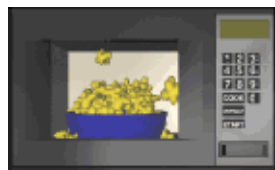

1. These are gloves made of thick material.
2. They are used for holding hot dishes.

Chimney:

1. It is a machine through which smoke is carried up away from fire.
2. The smoke is carried through the roof of the building.
3. The part of this chimney is above the roof.

Microwave:

1. It is a type of an oven.
2. It cooks or heats food very quickly.
3. It uses electromagnetic waves rather than heat.

Splash back:

1. It is a surface behind a sink or stove.
2. It protects the wall from liquids.

Knife block:

1. It is a small block usually of wood.
2. It is used to store knives.

Knife:

1. It is a sharp blade with handle.
2. It is used for cutting and chopping vegetables and fruits.

Counter:

It is a flat surface in kitchen for preparation of food.

Kitchen unit:

1. Special furniture made for the kitchen to hold all types of kitchenware.
2. There are cupboards and shelves that match every need.

Refrigerator:

1. It is an electric appliance.
2. Food kept in a Refrigerator stays at lower temperature so that it is preserved and remains fresh for a longer time.

Kitchen roll:

1. It is a thick paper on a roll.
2. It is used for cleaning up liquid, food, etc.

Kitchen roll holder:

It is a stand that holds the kitchen roll.

Toaster:

It is an electrical appliance that is used to toast slices of bread.

Tap:

It is a device for controlling the flow of water from a pipe into a sink.

Sink:

1. It is a large open trough attached to the kitchen platform.

2. It has taps to supply water.
3. It is used for washing dishes.

Dish cloth:

It is a cloth used for washing dishes.

Electrical Kettle:

1. It is an electrical appliance with a lid, handle and a spout.
2. It is used for boiling water.

Dish washer:

It is a machine for washing utensils.

Water purifier:

It is an electrical device that removes harmful substances like bacteria, virus and extra salts from water.

Tea towel:

It is a small towel used for drying cups, plates, knives, etc. after they have been washed after use.

Draining board:

1. It is the area next to the kitchen sink.
2. Here cups, plates, etc. are put for the water to drain off, after they have been washed.

Breakfast bar:

It is a place in the kitchen where breakfast is served and eaten.

Stool:

1. It is a seat with legs.
2. It doesn't have armrests or backrest.

Pan:

1. It is a container usually made of metal.
2. It has a handle or handles.
3. It is used for cooking food.

Bowl:

1. It is a deep round dish with a wide open top.
2. It is used especially for holding food or liquid.

Spoon:

1. It is a tool that has a handle with a shallow bowl at the end.
2. It is used for stirring, serving and eating food.

Tumbler:

1. It is a glass for drinking out of, with a flat bottom.
2. It has straight sides and no handle.

Plate:

It is a flat, usually round dish that you put food on.

Wok:

1. It is a large, shallow pan shaped like a bowl.
2. It is used for cooking food especially chinese recipes.

Pressure cooker:

1. It is a strong metal pot with a tight lid.
2. It cooks food quickly by steam under high pressure.

Fork:

1. It is a tool with handle and three or four sharp prongs.
2. It is used for piercing, picking up and eating food.